DETAILS

Digital Dangers is a virtual presentation designed to inform parents, educators, and school communities about today's most pressing online safety concerns and provide resources for parents and educators to use at home and in the classroom.

Join us for this virtual online safety event exploring how seemingly harmless online interactions can turn into threats of manipulation and violence against our youth.

For this virtual presentation, FBI Buffalo invites schools in Western New York to host in-person Watch Groups, where parents and educators from participating schools can view the presentation and be empowered to help prevent the children in their lives from becoming victims.

The content of this presentation includes frank discussions about sensitive topics, and is geared toward parents and adults only; it is not intended for young children to be present.

The host of this group is prohibited from sharing the link to this presentation. The purpose of limiting access to the link is to ensure we can speak about these important topics in a safe environment.

This one time presentation will not be recorded.
